THE THEME FOR THIS ORIENTATION WEEK IS "LET'S ALL GET ACQUAINTED."

We will start this week by getting to know one another by establishing good communication skills, learning about the discussion forum and the Moodle Platform you will be working with.

BEFORE THE ORIENTATION WEEK

- Learn how to navigate the Moodle Learning platform.
- Take part in the ice-breaker activities.

YOUR ACTIVITIES DURING THE ORIENTATION WEEK

1. Upload your profile picture, and create and complete your profile in Moodle.
2. Building your community, post one comment based on a quotation and reply to two posts.
3. Let's meet each other! Create an entry in your Student Discussion Area with the video recording feature, don't be shy, we want to meet you! Also, text and picture uploading are available.

1) WHO ARE YOU? TIME TO MEET EACH OTHER!

Similar to what takes place in a Face 2 Face classroom, we will establish a get-to-know-your classmates' activity. This is important and will serve to foster a sense of community.

Read all of the instructions below before beginning this activity.

Your Assignment 1.

1. Read about your Professors on your courses through their LinkedIn Profile, click on the icon

2. In the Student Discussion Forum post an entry that meets the following conditions:

Video-record or write to briefly describe yourself. Do not post very personal information as this will be visible to all the community.

Use the following section headings (in any order you want):

- Location: Where do you live now (country, city, or campus are fine).
- Education: If you wish, tell us about your educational expectations in this course. Interesting personal detail: Tell us something about your hobbies or what you do as extracurricular activities?
- Favorite Websites: Include at least two of your favorite websites and indicate why you like them.

3. Read what your classmates have posted and say hello! Expectations You should have created a posting in the Student Discussion Forum.

Expectations

- You should have created a posting in the Student Discussion Forum.

2) BUILDING OUR COMMUNITY

In this activity, we're going to learn a bit more about each other. I think this virtual icebreaker is a lot of fun and I hope you do, too!

While dining at your favourite Asian restaurant, you finally get to open your fortune cookie and find your very favourite quote written on the paper inside. This quote is important to you because it reflects your perspective on life and education and captures your authentic self. Introduce yourself to the other participants by sharing this quote with your classmates. Share both the fortune itself as well as a brief reflection about its message and how it integrates into your life. Don't forget to list the person who is credited with this insightful comment (e.g. Martin Luther King.) Need help finding a suitable quote? Try searching the web using the words "famous quotations" as your key words.

Read all of the instructions below before beginning this activity.

Your Assignment 2

1. Go to the Student Discussion Forum.
2. Once you have found a quotation, post this and state in 50 words or more, why you found the quotation to be of interest to you.
3. Respond to at least TWO other posts from classmates and comment on their thoughts in at least 50 words or more, feel free to use the video recording feature.
4. Please sign your posts, using the name you usually use.

Expectations

- You are expected to post one quote. Your reflection should be thoughtful and well-written.
- You are expected to post two responses to other quotes in this thread. When making a minimum of two thoughtful comments as responses to your peers, don't feel obligated to comment on every posting.

CONGRATULATIONS!

You have completed the posting requirements for the Orientation Week. If you have time, review anything you didn't understand and direct your questions to the other students this also builds our community.
